

IN JAIL FACING THREE BAD CHARGES

Harvey Gibson, Said To Be Oil Stock Saleman From Clinton County In Trouble

With three charges against him here, preferred by Manager C. C. Rhodus of the Hotel Glyndon, a young man by the name of Wm. H. Gibson, who is said to go by the name of Harvey Gibson and whose home is said to be in Clinton county, is in the Madison county jail. Since being incarcerated here, three other warrants have been sent here to Sheriff Whitlock by the authorities at Lexington.

The three charges against Gibson here are seeking to defraud a hotel keeper of his board bill, obtaining money by false pretenses, and giving a "cold check." Gibson's trial is set for next Friday. Through his attorney, Eugene Moynahan, of this city, he has three times obtained a continuance of the hearing, which will in the nature of things be but an examining trial.

Gibson came here about October 15th and registered at the Hotel Glyndon. He was understood to be in the oil stock business. In the complaints lodged against Gibson, Manager Rhodus alleges that he remained until November 5th and accumulated a bill for lodging, laundry, etc., amounting to $68.54, which is still due and unpaid. Mr. Rhodus alleges also that Gibson gave him a draft for $20 on Dr. R. E. Gibson, of Albany, Clinton county, upon which payment was refused, and then gave Mr. Rhodus a check for $5 on the Fayette National Bank at Lexington, which was returned marked "No funds." The charges against him at Lexington, warrants for which have been sent to officers here, are for giving "cold checks" and obtaining money under false pretenses.

Gibson is a young man, apparently about 25 or 30 years of age and of good appearance.

OPERATORS KICK ON WILSON'S PROPOSALS

Washington, Nov. 22.—The bituminous coal operators in the central competitive field declared today that Secretary Wilson's proposal to the joint wage scale committee yesterday served only to widen the breach between the operators and the miners. It is understood Wilson proposed an increase of 27 12-100 cents a ton for coal diggers and $1.58 per day for day laborers. Some operators said this is wholly unsatisfactory to them.

After the scale committee adjourned, the operators would make no formal statement but some said privately they would go into session late today with the miners' representatives to definite policy. The miners would not discuss Wilson's proposal.

REPORTS OF LOCAL FOX HOUND SALES

While at the big National Fox Hunters' meet at Crab Orchard last week, Charley Lanter, a well known Madison county fox hunter, sold a fine young hound to Woods Walker of Paint Lick. The hound was an 18-months-old sorrel bitch, that Mr. Lanter secured from Miley Long. She was a beauty and he got $100 for her. At the same meet J. L. Kanatzar sold his crack three-year-old dog "Broach" to J. H. Wilder, of Vincennes, Ala., who was elected president of the Association. It is understood that Mr. Kanatzar got $200 for his hound. Mr. Wilder also bought a Derby dog from Alex Parrish of this county, at a fancy price.

D'ANNUNZIO CAUSES CRISIS ON ADRIATIC

His Followers Want To Make Him President Of Italy—Jugo-Slavs Concentrating

(By Associated Press) London, Nov. 22.—The situation on the Adriatic as a result of Gabriele D'Annunzio's campaign has reached a crisis. Private advisers leave no doubt that he is determined to annex Dalmatia and attack Montenegro. The Jugo-Slavs are reported to have concentrated troops with a certainty that further aggression will precipitate hostilities.

Another report says that a Republican undercurrent, directed against the Italian monarchy, exists among D'Annunzio's forces. D'Annunzio it appears, has been stirred to further efforts by the fact the Italian elections were unfavorable to his cause. A certain element among his adherents is credited with a desire to make him president of Italy.

REDS HAVE MONEY FOR REVOLUTION IN U. S.

(By Associated Press) New York, Nov. 22.—Search for the holders of a $58,000 fund reported to have been raised here to provide radicals with arms and ammunition "for a coming revolution," occupied the attention of federal agents and the police anarchist squad today. Boston authorities informed New York officials that a former Russian newspaper editor told of the fund in a Boston address, urging radicals "to stop talking and begin acting."

THIS MEANS MORE MONEY FOR EASTERN

Constructing the statute providing the various taxes collected and especially the inheritance tax law the Appellate Court at Frankfort Friday decided that the public schools of Kentucky will share in the inheritance tax collected by the state, just as the other funds are provided by the law. The immediate result of the decision is that $417,282.50 held in the treasury pending the action of the Court will be transferred to the school fund, as this amount has been collected in the inheritance fund to the credit of the schools since the enactment of the statute in 1918. Eastern Kentucky State Normal shares in the tax as do other State educational institutions.

ROGERS WILL PROBATED

Mrs. Jennie Rogers was appointed and qualified in the county court as administrator of the estate of her husband, in bond of $10,000, with C. S. Rogers and G. B. Todd sureties. R. A. Ralston, Robert Guyne and Walker Guyne were appointed appraisers of the estate.

FLIER FALLS AT DANVILLE

Lloyd Taylor, of Chicago, had a leg broken and John M. Pursley, of Winchester, was badly cut about the face when a 90-horse power Curtis Flying machine fell near the home of Robert T. Quisenberry, Danville. The driver lost control at a height of 50 feet and the machine fell to the ground.

H. C. JAMES BUYS M'CREARY BUILDING

Secures Prominent Business House As Investment—Many More Town Sales

H. C. James, well known local real estate dealer, has just announced that he has purchased the building on Second street formerly owned by the late Gov. Jas. B. McCreary, from Mr. T. H. Collins, who bought it from Robert McCreary. The price is understood to have been around $5,000. The lower floor is occupied by the Pantagraph, and Attorney John Noland has offices on the second floor. Mr. James states that he bought it as an investment. It is one of the best located and most desirable business buildings in town.

Town lots continue to change hands with remarkable frequency in Richmond, as well as in the other towns of Madison county. Berea College has recently purchased a number of lots in that city and several more deeds there have just been filed.

MEXICANS STILL HOLD U. S. CONSUL IN PEN

(By Associated Press) Washington, Nov. 22.—Although the note sent by the State Department to the Mexican government Wednesday demanding immediate release of American Consul Agent Jenkins at Puebla, was delivered to the Mexican Foreign Office the same evening the Mexico City press yesterday said Jenkins is still in the penitentiary. It was announced today at the State Department.

No reply to the American note has been received and no indication when one will be made. Officials reiterated today that the Department had no information tending to sustain the charge that Jenkins was in collusion with the bandits who kidnapped him, and held him for $150,000 ransom.

PAINT-LICK BEATS LANCASTER 6 TO 0

In a snappy game of football Friday afternoon, Paint Lick High School walked over the crack Lancaster High School team to the tune of 6 to 0. The score should have been much higher as the Paint Lick boys out-classed Lancaster at every stage of the game. Prewitt made a touch down from an intercepted pass but was called back 20 yards and the ball put the ball in play. Time again Paint Lick was penalized when they were just about to cross the goal. Lancaster ran in two cracks ringers while Paint Lick was handicapped by the absence of Wes and Gibson, their crack players. Paint Lick's center only weighed 115 pounds and is 15 years old. Capt. Olin Patrick and Jno. Kuhlman starred for Paint Lick while every other man played to top notch. Come again Lancaster.

RED CROSS LEADER COMING TO BERA

Dr. Lipscomb To Attend County Life Conference And Deliver Address Next Week

Dr. William Lipscomb, director of the Bureau of First Aid of the Department of Military Relief for the Lake Division, American Red Cross will be in Bera Tuesday and Wednesday, Nov. 25 and 26. While in the city he will speak at the Country Life Conference of the Agricultural and Normal Schools of Kentucky and southern Indiana.

He will also confer with officials of Bera Chapter of the Red Cross on the subject of starting First Aid instruction classes in groups of all kinds—industrial, factory, store, school, club. "First Aid is merely common sense based on a little added knowledge," declares Dr. Lipscomb who has just been released from army service. It is his belief that thousands of lives are lost through ignorance of First Aid treatment on the part of persons who first come in contact with the injured.

While in Bera, Dr. Lipscomb will stop at Boone Tavern hotel.

BEREA TO ENTERTAIN BIG CONFERENCE

National Conference On Rural Education To Be Held At Bera College, Nov. 25

For the past five years the Department of the Interior, through the Bureau of Education, has been waging a nation-wide campaign for better rural schools and the improvement of country life. Among the agencies employed in this work has been a series of conferences throughout the country. In response to invitations from President Frost of Bera College and Hon. V. O. Gilbert, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, Frankfort, the Sixteenth Conference has been called to meet at Bera, November 25 to 28, both inclusive, 1919. Several Governors, County Superintendents of schools, Presidents of State Normal schools, college and universities and many prominent club women, business and professional men, administrative school officers and progressive farmers have been invited and many of them will be present and take part on the program.

The central thought of the conference will be what our rural schools must be and do to meet after-war conditions.

Dr. W. C. Bagley, of Teachers College, declared before the Rural Section of the Department of Superintendence at Chicago, 1919, that the greatest problem in American education today is the rural school problem. He said it is more than that. It is the fundamental problem in American life.

Dr. L. D. Coffman, Dean Teachers College, University of Minnesota, says that the rural situation in the United States is a tragedy.

President Coates, State Normal School, Richmond, Ky., says the trouble with the rural school problem is that the average farmer and the average rural teacher look upon school as a little house on a little ground where a little teacher at a little salary for a little while teaches little children little things. And Prof. P. G. Holden adds that we have thus belittled the biggest job in America.

Long before the world war, long before President Wilson began to plead for an increased production of food products as the surest and most effective way to reduce the high cost of living the food supply was not keeping pace with the demand. The census shows that from 1900 to 1910 the agricultural products in the United States increased ten per cent as compared with the preceding decade, while the population increased twenty-one per cent.

In a discussion of this condition, as long ago as 1913, President J. D. Eggleston, of the Virginia Polytechnic Institute declared that these facts brought to light by the census make it plain that it is the menace of hunger that is turning the nation to the rural school as the only instrument capable of averting widespread disaster. Confronted by this danger, the nation is turning to the rural school because, owing to the changes wrought by the last century in our economic and social life, and more especially in the economic and social conditions surrounding agricultural production, the rural school more than any other one instrument today controls the food-supply of the nation.

If the disaster and danger relative to the food supply of the nation were as imminent as President Eggleston thought it was in the light of facts brought out by the census of 1910, the situation is certainly more serious and threatening at the present time because of the direful effects of the world war. If the rural school is to play the part in the solution of these problems that President Eggleston says it must the Central thought of the Bera Conference becomes a paramount issue for the nation.

A detailed program of the Conference will be ready for distribution soon.

For information regarding hotel accommodations and for accommodations at the college dormitories, write Dean C. N. McAllister, Bera, Ky., at once, stating how many in the party.

when you will arrive and how long you will stay.

J. L. McBrien, Director Rural School Extension, Bureau of Education, Washington, D. C., is the Executive Secretary of the Conference.

FOX HUNTERS ALL JOINED RED CROSS

Mrs. Kanatzar Brings Renewed Members From All At Crab Orchard Meet

The Red Cross campaign for Third Roll Call for the county has ended, but any one wishing to renew his membership is asked to call at the Citizen's National Bank, leave his name and dollar and receive his button. Thanks to McCreary Simmons, Chairman of the Drive, and his assistants, who worked so valiantly on November court day, four hundred and thirty names were enrolled, most of them on that day.

Mrs. Julian Tyng, Miss Dorothy Perry and Logan Burnam led in the number of memberships gained. In the county precincts, Miss Alice Whitlock and Miss Mattie Hamilton were ahead.

Mrs. Beya, a red cross nurse who spent four years in foreign service, added greatly to the interest of the campaign, speaking twice in the court house on court day.

A very pleasing incident which occurred at the National Fox Hunt at Crab Orchard, may be mentioned. One of the hunters, Mr. J. K. Herring, of Clarksville, Mississippi, noticed that the table spread for a banquet was in the shape of a cross, and suggested that those present should "say grace" by renewing allegiance to the Red Cross, the greatest mother in the world. No sooner said than done, and every man renewed his membership and the money was turned over to Mrs. J. L. Kanatzar, who paid it to the treasurer of the Madison County Chapter, which here expresses appreciation of the timely thought.

THREW AMMONIA INTO BOY'S EYES

Is Charge Against A 14-Year-Old School Boy Made By Father Of The Victim

A warrant has been sworn out in the Madison Juvenile Court by G. C. Kearns, against Wallace Smith, a 14-year-old boy, charging him with throwing ammonia into the eyes of a little son of Kearns while the child was on his way from school, causing injuries which may result in the loss of his eyesight. It is also claimed that the Smith boy was recently expelled from the city school. He will have his trial next week.

COATES SPEAKS AT BALLARD'S LUNCH

Eastern Normal President Takes Prominent Part In Conference For Better Schools

President T. J. Coates, of Eastern Kentucky State Normal, is back from Louisville, where he attended a luncheon given by Lieut. Gov.-elect Thruston Ballard, in honor of George Colvin, of Springfield, the new State Superintendent of Public Instruction. The dominant note of the conference was betterment of the school system of the state, with special thought of the needs of rural schools.

Several score educators of the state met Mr. Colvin. Speakers urged in particular better textbooks, higher pay for teachers, revision of State school laws to help rural schools more actively to impress the people with the importance of school problems and their solution, teaching of 100 per cent, Americanization, keeping school superintendents out of politics, standardization of buildings, increasing of school revenues, careful State survey and separation of schools and politics.

Mr. Colvin said that he would soon announce a program designed to bring about reconstruction of education in the State and expressed his appreciation of the interests shown by the speakers who were: Mrs. Lafon Riker, president of the Kentucky Federation of Women's Clubs; Wm. B. Belknap, Miss Fanny Sumrall, of the Jefferson county School Association, ad Welfare worker in the Ballard Mill; President T. J. Coates; Prof. Charles D. Lewis, Bera; Harry Giovannoli, editor of the Lexington Leader; James Speed, of the Southern Agriculturalist; Dr. R. L. McCready, dean of Christ church cathedral; Churchill Humphrey, former member of the Board of Education; Alex G. Barrett, of the Board of Education; James A. Payne, Hardin county School Superintendent; Prof. H. H. Cherry, of Bowling Green; John C. Pirtle, of Elizabethtown; Thomas F. Smith, president of the Board of Trade; J. H. Risley, of Owensboro.

AUTO HEARSE GOT STUCK IN MUD ROAD

Mr. Tom Kindred, of the Panola section, was in town Saturday and reported to Judge W. K. Price that the road known as the Red Lick road, in his section, is almost impassable, and needs working badly. It runs from Drowning Creek near Killis' barn to the cross road near I. J. Owens. Judge Price appointed Jesse Wilson, a well known merchant of Panola, as overseer of the road, to have it put in shape. Mr. Kindred said that an auto hearse got stuck in the road a short time ago, and it took all day long for it to get hauled out.

Corey To Speak At Christian Church

In the absence of Mr. Carpenter Rev. S. J. Corey, of Cincinnati, will speak at the First Christian church Sunday morning. Mr. Corey is one of the most popular leaders and speakers in the Christian church and will be heard by a large audience on Sunday morning. He is to be here for just the one address leaving to speak at Winchester Sunday afternoon. The evening service at the Christian church will be adjourned.
